Introduction

MinutE is an open-source software which helps to automate time efficient schedules for you.

Problem Statement

Scheduling is considered to be one of the hardest problems to solve till date . Individuals need an organised lifestyle because of their hectic schedules.

Solution

Our strategy is to automate your time. We become your personal assistant, rearranging your meetings and tasks to be as efficient as possible.

When you sign up with us, you provide us with your basic daily schedule, including your wake-up time, college or office hours, as well as your bedtime and dinnertime. We will prioritise your work based on your deadline and automatically schedule it in your calendar each time you receive a new assignment. All you need to do is provide us with the task's specifics, the deadline, and the estimated number of hours to finish it.

Future Plans

For the purpose of scheduling your meetings, we plan to combine your Google and Outlook calendars .We also plan to analyse your efficient hours and assign high priority tasks using ML algorithm.
